SESSION OF THE SYNOD

Montgomery Presbytery Sustained in Reynolds Case.

HIS DISMISSAL CONFIRMED

The Appeal Heard at Length and Full Defense Made-Vote Small on Final Result-Synod Visits Stonewall

Jackson Institute.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) ABINGDON, VA., Oct. 22.-The third lay's session of the Presbyterian Synod of Virginia was opened with devotional exercises, conducted by Ruling Elder S. W. Somerville, of Fredericksburg. Nearly the whole day was taken up in the consideration of an appeal case that came up from Montgomery Presbytery, In this Presbytery charges had been made against Rev. J. McD. Reynolds. He was tried by the Presbytery, found guilty, and was suspended from the ministry and from the sacraments of the church It was against this judgment that he appealed.

CHARGES AGAINST REYNOLDS.

There were three charges preferred against him, as follows: First. Misappropriation of funds which had been raised and placed in his hands by a friend of the churches which he by a friend of the churches which he was serving. It was claimed that the money was to be used for building a manse for the church, and that he had used it in building a house which was his own individual property. He claimed that the money had been given him for his own personal benefit, and yet that he had offered to turn the house over to the church on condition that the church would reimburse him for the money he himself had put into it, but that this had been declined by the church. The contention was made that this money should have been secured to the church and that this was not done, and that Mr. Reynolds showed no willingness to do this.

Second charge was that of falsehood,

this.

Second charge was that of falsehood, and the third was that of conduct unbecoming a minister of the gospel. The charge of falsehood was sustained only by the testimony of one witness, and Mr. Reynolds claimed that he had been resumderstood. misunderstood.
INCREDIBLE STATEMENTS.

my. Reynolds claimed that he had been misunderstood.

INCREDIBLE STATEMENTS.

The last charge seemed to be based upon his statements in conversation, which seemed to be incredible, but which it was maintained were incredible only to those who were uninformed in regard to the facts. The whole record of the case in the Presbytery, including the testimony taken there, was read before the Synod, two hours being taken up in the reading. Then Mr. Reynolds counsel, Rev. W. C. Campbell, D. D., of Roanoke, was given an hour in which to present his case. Then the representative of the Presbytery, Rev. J. A. McMurray, of Lynchburg, was given an hour in which to present his case. Then the representative of the Presbytery, Rev. J. A. McMurray, of Lynchburg, was given an hour in which to present the Presbytery's side. Then Dr. Campbell was given fifteen minutes in which to reply. These gentlemen made fine speeches, each one presenting his case as strongly as possible, though without showing or awakening the least acrimonious feeling. The roll was then called and the vote resulted as follows: To sustain the appeal against the judgment of the Presbytery, sixty-three; to sustain the appeal against the judgment of the Synod were absent during some part of the time during which the matter was under consideration, and for this reason were debarred from voting, and there were others who were debarred or excused for various reasons.

This accounts for the small vote.

The matter was then referred to the judicial committee to formulate the action to be taken by the Synod. This will probably be reported to the Synod for its consideration to-morrow.

Stonewall Jackson Female Institute, a school under the control of Abingdon Presbytery, and of which Miss Kate Hunt is principal.

The Synod was there treated to speeches, musle by pretty girls, and refreshments.

Among the speakers were Judge Hatton and Judge Page, on behalf of the Institute, and responses were made by the moderator of Synod, Rev. A. M. Frazer, D. D., Dr. J. P. Smith, Dr.

The exercises were thoroughly enjoyed day with a fine missionary address by the missionary bishop of Honolulu. Bis-op Rostorick. The day's session was filled with important business matters, the hearing of reports, and the taking up of plans for the following year. The report of the president, Miss Saille Stuart, shows a fine work done by this body of women, composed of sixty-three branchs of the Senior Auxiliary and thirty-seven of the Junior, among which are branches composed of but two or three carnests women. One branch for years has been carried on by one devoted woman, who works and makes her offering and reports with perfect regularity. Almost $1,000 has been employed this year in various kinds of missionary, domestic, foreign and diocesan work. Miss Stuart has written nearly a thousand leiters, and been to every parish in the diocese. Upon the bishop's representation of the needs of his schools these gallant women responded with pledges of ten scholarships in one of them for the coming year.

Good Attendance and Behavior—Some Amusing Incidents.

(Special to The Times-Diseatch.)

WARRENTON, VA., Oct. 22.—The second day of the first annual exhibit of the Warrenton Colored Horse Show Association ended the exhibit.

The afternoon attendance was estimated at 1,000 or more. All of the performances had much more snap to them than those of the preceding day. This probably was due to the fact that the most of the animals were more nearly up to the mark than many which were entered yesterday. The judging of park hacks, heavy and lightweight hunters and single harness class completely filled the morning house.

This afternoon some excellent types with a good deal of action about them were driven in pairs around the ring.

There were many humorous incidents. The president of the association having been awarded second prize money it; a driving class, gave vent to his enthusiasm by running his matched pair around the ring at such a rate that it looked at any moment as if driver and equipage would be thrown into the grandstand.

The high jumps average five total and fraction. There were three there is in this class, one horse out of the trie topping heavily and throwing its rider to the ground.

A steeplechase closed the show, and in it were entered two blacks and a chestnut. A singular thing happened; the whole

It were entered two blacks and a chestnut.

A singular thing happened; the whole trio fell almost simultaneously, and lost their bridles, the former two at the second jump, and the latter at the first.

It was then a scramble to replace the headsear and secure the lead. The blacks had it out neck and neck over the course until near the finish when one of them cleared the Liverpool jump and beat the favritie of yesterday. The whois show was marked by good behavior.

KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM

Or Your Hair Will Fall Out Till You Become Bald.

Modern Science has discovered that dandruff is caused by a germ that digs up the scalp in scales, as it burrows down to the roots of the hair, where it destroys the hair's vitality, causing falling hair, and ultimately baldness. After Prof. Unna, of Hamburg, Germany, discovered the dandruff germ, all efforts to find a remedy failed until the great laberatory discovery was made which resulted in Newbro's Herpielde. It alone of all other hair preparations kills the dandruff germ. Without dandruff hair grows luxuriantly. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists.
